Health and Wellness Tip for August

"The food you eat can be either the safest and most powerful form of medicine or the slowest form of poison." - Anne Wigmore

If you want to make the food you eat safe and powerful, here are some tips:

1. Choose plants first - foods that grow in the ground provide the best nutrients to support your body's health
2. Increase fiber - foods containing fiber reduce your risk for chronic disease and help maintain a healthy digestive system
3. Cut back on salt - extra sodium can cause high blood pressure, known as the silent killer. Try substituting salt for herbs, spices and seasonings such as turmeric, ginger, chili pepper, lemon and lime
4. Learn how to read food labels - get past all the marketing and learn the truth!
