December Health & Wellness

Are you wondering how to make a cold winter day warmer and healthy? Look no further than a mug of hot cocoa. Hot cocoa, unlike the powdered hot chocolate most of us are accustomed to, is a powder made from cocoa beans that contain very little fat, sugar and calories, all of which are found in hot chocolate. There are many benefits to drinking hot cocoa since it contains significant amounts of antioxidants, helps with digestion and the flavonoids found in cocoa have a positive effect on arterial health. Try sprinkling a dash of peppermint or cinnamon to make a warm and delicious drink!
